Scandinavian Review has been the ASF's primary publication since 1913. Today each issue reaches more than 12,000 readers including ASF Associate members, donors, institutions, and others interested in the Nordic region. This illustrated journal brings its audience articles on many different aspects of life and culture in Scandinavia, from film and literature to peacekeeping and current affairs, from cities and museums to visit, to book tips and historical subjects. Three issues of Scandinavian Review were published in each of the two fiscal years of 2006 and 2007.

The ASF published its quarterly newsletter, Scan, which reports on ASF activities and programs, along with news from the Nordic region and Scandinavian events throughout the United States. The Longboat, a special newsletter for those who have received ASF fellowships and grants, was also published, and included information on new awards as well as accomplishments of former fellows.
